Dear Parents and Guardians,

As we approach the end of the second week of home learning, I wanted to contact you and say thank you for all that you are doing. Your support in working with the remote learning has been outstanding, thank you for bearing with us, the staff have had to adapt to a new way of learning extremely quickly and are developing their approach all the time.

As a staff team, we are continually evaluating the remote learning we are offering to you and gauging where we can make improvements. Please do feedback any comments to your class teacher or myself to help us shape our future offer.

We do not underestimate the amount of pressure you as parents are under. The challenges of home schooling, whilst trying to work and/or look after other children or family members is huge. Thank you for everything you are doing.

Finally, please could I just give the children a few reminders of 'etiquette' for online learning;

- Please come in clothes suitable for learning – not night clothes
- Have an adult nearby and if possible, hold the session in a shared space not the bedroom
- The rest of the house need to be aware that a call is taking place – be aware of your background and change it if necessary.
- Please show good manners all the time
- If you don't want to be seen, you can turn your camera off
- No eating on the call
- Do not record or take photos of children or staff members during the sessions

The staff will do all they can to support the children at this time.

The home environment does remain the safest place to be at present and we all look forward to the day when we can welcome the children back into school.

Our best wishes

Zoe Longstaff and the team at Swinderby
